

Staying Connected with Campus Services

We'd love to hear from you! Tell us what you miss most about being on campus. Is it a favorite place? A favorite activity? Seeing your coworkers? Let us know by sending an email to lisa.celone@dartmouth.edu, and we'll share the results.

Meanwhile, it's exciting to consider having some students back in Hanover this fall. See details of the 2020-2021 academic plan here. A heartfelt THANK YOU to each and every one of you for the terrific work you're doing. Stay safe, and enjoy the July 4th weekend.

Campus Services Remains Active

Campus Services continues to support broad campus-wide efforts to manage operations through this coronavirus pandemic. A few highlights are mentioned below.

Guests can now enjoy outdoor dining on the patios of the Hanover Inn and Pine restaurant.

Hinman

Mail, DPMS, Dartmouth Dining, and Transportation Services employees are helping to pack & ship students' belongings. Collis staff, too, are able to help once all union shifts have been filled. As mentioned on the COVID-19 website, all students' belongings will be packed and shipped to their homes. Large items will be available for student pick-up, and belongings that returning students will use next year will be moved to controlled storage.

The '53 Commons north dining room is now open for eat-in guests.

Tech Tips from CS Technology Services

To contact the Help Desk go to services.dartmouth.edu and click on the  Get Help button to submit a support request. This will provide a faster response than emailing Help@Dartmouth.edu. Another option is to call directly at 646-2999.

For those working remotely, it's important to periodically connect to the GlobalProtect vpn to receive security updates on your computer.

FO&M Employees Return to Campus

McKenzie, the Grounds Shop, New Hamp Hall and other buildings will see increased activity next week as all FO&M union employees and their supervisors and managers return to work on campus. Here's what they'll be up to:

- Custodial Services will be deep cleaning buildings in anticipation of students' return. Residential Operations custodial staff will help pack students' belongings for shipment prior to being able to deep clean the residence halls.
- Grounds shop employees will be landscaping, tackling project work, and moving students' boxed belongings to controlled storage.
- The trades shops will be catching up on paused or delayed work orders. They'll also prepare spaces for department employees to return by installing signage and plexiglass shields in customer service areas.
- Res Ops maintenance staff will also be catching up on paused work orders and preparing the residential facilities for the fall.

Director of FO&M Operations Chad Loomis comments, "I'm excited to have everyone back together, but things will be different. The break and common areas in each shop have been reconfigured to minimize risk, and we'll all be wearing masks. There are a lot of new processes to learn."

FO&M engineers and project managers will continue working remotely, while the Work Control team works from McKenzie on a rotational basis.

Now that's a tree!

This 52-foot tree is one of two large sugar maples that were planted on the southeast corner of the Green last week. They replaced two trees that were removed last year due to disease.
