

Staying Connected with Campus Services

Thanks to College Forester Kevin Evans for sharing this photo of peak foliage at the Second College Grant.

It seems our daily operations are starting to smooth out and become more routinized as the days and weeks progress. Thank you, as always, for your attention to service and to one another.

Season Pass Sale Through October

Think Snow... already? YES!

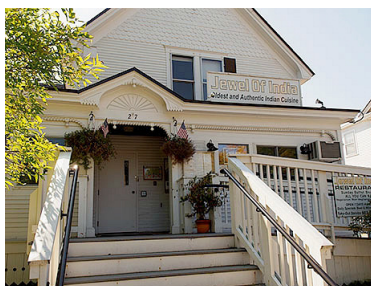

With fall foliage at its best, it's time to think about upcoming winter sports and, specifically, to skiing and snowboarding at the Dartmouth Skiway. Season passes are at their lowest prices now through October 31, just $99 for College employees and $199 for employees' family members. Don't hesitate to sign up. It's easy to get your passes online at the Skiway website.

Operational details aren't yet finalized, but feel free to reach out to Mark Adamczyk, the Skiway's new director, with any questions. I've got my season pass. How about you?

Demolition at 27 Lebanon St.

With the Jewel of India restaurant successfully relocated, this 1910 structure is scheduled for demolition starting Monday, Oct. 5. Project Manager

Jason Rouillard reports, "The actual demolition will last most of the week, but after the first two days you won't see a structure anymore. It will take a little time to remove the stone foundation. Subsequently, new top soil and grass will start along with paving and striping."

While there are no immediate plans for development of this space, Dartmouth will work directly with the Town to propose projects for the site that will help meet strategic goals for the Downtown District and core needs of the College.

DOC House Renovations Begin

Dartmouth's Class of '69 is honoring its 50th reunion by funding refurbishments and capital renewal improvements to the DOC House, built in 1929. The intent of the renovation is to update systems, make the building fully accessible and improve event space while preserving the building's historical appearance and maintaining its nostalgic feel.

Most visible to the interior will be conversion of the large kitchen into a separate dining room with a cathedral ceiling and an adjacent patio overlooking the pond. A smaller kitchen will be added in the southeast corner of the building. The lower level will also be updated to more efficiently serve DOC functions and the Ski and Skate Center. The building will reopen in May 2021.

Staff Kudos

Dave Harris, head of facilities at the Geisel School of Medicine, shared the following compliments of FO&M employees. "I've said this [many] times, but was reminded again today. It's a pleasure to work with your electricians. Frank [Furman] and Seth [Parker of the EL shop] were here to do the preliminary work required to rewire a new motor and drive for our AC-3 in Vail. They are fantastic and great to work with... so thank you.

Rob [Moore of the EE shop] was also here doing the controls work on the drive. I've worked with him for many years, both when he was a contractor and now at Dartmouth. I have the same comment about him. It's a pleasure to work with him."

No doubt many Campus Services employees will miss working with Dave who retires this week.
