

Staying Connected with Campus Services

First Friday Meals

Don't forget! This is the first week of February and a $5 meal is offered to all Campus Services employees on Friday at '53 Commons from 7:30am to 8:30pm.

3rd shift employees can receive an equivalent $10 credit off of Late-Night's offerings from 9:30pm to 1:30am. Bring your ID card and a credit or debit card, as cash is not accepted at any on-campus dining venues.

Members of Campus Services' leadership team will enjoy these meals, too, so keep an eye out for them and stop by to say hello. They look forward to seeing you!

Here are photos of the new First Generation Office in Sudikoff. Renovations were managed by Drew Miraldi.

DEI is in Your Corner

Did you know that February is Black History Month? Throughout the month, various programs at Dartmouth, in the U.S., and across the world celebrate achievements by African Americans and their role in history.

Dartmouth is focusing Black 'Legacy' Month on Black Joy, as described in this Dartmouth News article. Month-long events are listed here; please notice that some events are for students only, while others are community-wide.

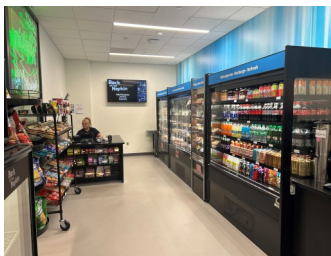

One event that might be of interest is tomorrow night's showing of Wakanda Forever, the sequel to the award-winning film The Black Panther. Wakanda Forever is showing Friday, Feb. 3 at 7pm in Loew's Auditorium. Tickets may be purchased on-line.

Note: This new section of our newsletter will be drafted by our DEI Communications subcommittee and posted weekly. If there are DEI topics you'd like to see, please email Lisa.Celone@dartmouth.edu.

What's New?

Dining Services recently opened a new venue at the Engineering and Computer Science Center (ECSC) called Back of the Napkin Café. The café serves fresh and fast food options, including sandwiches, salads, sushi, and hot entrees. It's open Mon–Thurs from 8am to 9pm, Fridays from 8am to 4:30pm, and Sundays from 4–9pm.

Kudos go to all the Dining Services employees who have added several programs including The Fern Coffee and Tea Bar at the Irving Institute, Café at Baker, and '53 Late Night. If you're near any of these venues, stop by for a bite or just to cheer on your Dining Services colleagues.

Meet Magda Nanopoulos at Back of the Napkin.
